

"Record" Advertising Costs Nothing.
It pays for itself. The investment is sure of returns. Get our rates.

The Record.

VOL. XIV. NO. 39.

GREENVILLE, KY., THURSDAY, OCTOBER 17, 1912.

50c. PER YEAR, IN ADVANCE

AS BAD AS THAT?

Are Kentuckians Willing to Be "Tail Enders?"

FINE CATTLE AND CHILDREN,

One Man to Care For Seven Jersey Milkers and One Teacher For Thirty-six, Sixty and Even a Hundred Pupils.

I had known for a long time that Kentucky's standing in matters educational was very low. I had known that she was in the grip of illiteracy, with all its attendant evils, but I had hardly expected to find such a large number of her rural population willing shoddy to let things go." One day while chatting with a member of a county board of education in a high county he happened to say:

"I tell you, I've been interested in education, mightily interested, for a long time. I've been on this board for mighty nigh ten years."

"I am delighted to hear you say that you are interested," I responded to reply, "for you know Kentucky stands thirty-ninth in the list of the states when it comes to education. That's not very far from the end of the list. We need men like you to help us keep things moving."

The old gentleman stroked his grizzled beard thoughtfully, and I felt certain that I had made a vivid impression. A smile, a very small smile, wrinkled the corners of his eyes as he said quietly:

"I reckon you forgot one thing in this whole business—somebody's got to be 'tail enders,' ain't they?"

I had a glimpse of rural Kentucky's attitude toward education.

Cattle and Children. I was tired and discouraged after days of school inspection in Jefferson county, so I had decided to take a day off and visit the State Fair and see the sights.

"Blue ribbon?" I asked the man wearing a broad smile as he came down the main roadway.

"You bet!" he exclaimed. He caught sight of my camera and continued: "Don't you want to take a snapshot of my better?"

As he turned the splendid young animal into position for a photograph I had a chance to look her over carefully. I was certain she was of royal blood, for her horns looked like polished ebony, and her toe nails had been

POULTRY

DETERMINE SEX OF A GOOSE

One Good Way Is to Notice Difference in Voices—Mating Season Is Usually in Fall.

In answer to a query as to method or rule for determining the sex of geese, an exchange makes the following reply:

There are no marks by which one can tell the gander from the goose. The only ways are to watch the actions of the birds and to notice the differences in their voices. The gander has what is popularly called a tenor voice. It is possible that all four of your birds may be geese. If so,

I had known for a long time that Kentucky's standing in matters educational was very low. I had known that she was in the grip of illiteracy, with all its attendant evils, but I had hardly expected to find such a large number of her rural population willing shoddy to let things go." One day while chatting with a member of a county board of education in a high county he happened to say:

"I tell you, I've been interested in education, mightily interested, for a long time. I've been on this board for mighty nigh ten years."

"I am delighted to hear you say that you are interested," I responded to reply, "for you know Kentucky stands thirty-ninth in the list of the states when it comes to education. That's not very far from the end of the list. We need men like you to help us keep things moving."

The old gentleman stroked his grizzled beard thoughtfully, and I felt certain that I had made a vivid impression. A smile, a very small smile, wrinkled the corners of his eyes as he said quietly:

"I reckon you forgot one thing in this whole business—somebody's got to be 'tail enders,' ain't they?"

I had a glimpse of rural Kentucky's attitude toward education.

Cattle and Children. I was tired and discouraged after days of school inspection in Jefferson county, so I had decided to take a day off and visit the State Fair and see the sights.

"Blue ribbon?" I asked the man wearing a broad smile as he came down the main roadway.

"You bet!" he exclaimed. He caught sight of my camera and continued: "Don't you want to take a snapshot of my better?"

As he turned the splendid young animal into position for a photograph I had a chance to look her over carefully. I was certain she was of royal blood, for her horns looked like polished ebony, and her toe nails had been

GIVING CHARCOAL TO FOWLS
Puts Them in Good Condition for Work and Prevents Many Diseases Incidental to Season.

DOES THE AVERAGE FARMER know that an excellent grade of charcoal can be made by burning corn cobs till they turn red, extinguishing the fire and when dry grinding for mash feeding for the poultry.

Charcoal is not a food, though fowls gain in flesh and eggs during its use; it simply puts them and keeps them in a good condition for work. It prevents disease because of its great capacity to absorb gases, acids and impurities. It is an alternative, changing diseased conditions to normal, disinfecting the disease tissue and toning up the system.

In purid disease like roup, in fermentation like sour crop, in intestinal maladies like diarrhea or cholera, it is of great benefit. In spring and summer, when the fowl's blood is sluggish it is needed as a purifier to ward off diseases incidental to these seasons.

It should be kept before fowls in size to suit their age, and where fowls refuse to eat it fine charcoal should be mixed in the mash occasionally. It is best given to individual birds in five-grain capsules—large doses are necessary.

ROOST IS QUITE CONVENIENT

Made of Two Four-inch Pieces Six Feet Long, Nailed Together With Five Crosspieces.

Select two four-inch pieces six feet long. Lay them parallel and nail five crosspieces, three feet long and three inches wide, to these. The legs may be made of 2 by 4 stuff the desired length. By means of long spikes secure them to the parallel pieces, says the Iowa Homestead. Place these in roosting quarters for chickens and they will soon be perching upon it at night.

Poultry Feed.

Corn is a good poultry feed the year around, provided the birds have plenty of green stuff during the warm months.

THIRTY-SIX BOYS AND GIRLS FOR ONE TEACHER.

overflowing with the zest of living. Watching them as they passed, I thought:

"Goodness! What is the matter with our old commonwealth when the stockmen all know that it takes one man to handle seven Jersey heifers in a state fair and they do not know that one teacher cannot possibly handle from thirty to seventy young animals and leave them in condition to take prizes in the show ring of life? I felt that the children of Kentucky were not getting a fair, square deal.

ONE OF THE SEVEN HEIFERS.

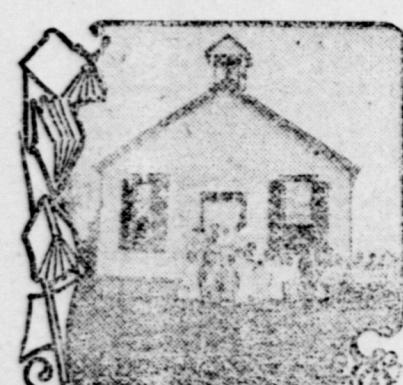

maneuvered that morning. When she was led to the barn over by I knew she was a royal princess, for the stable boy was waiting to throw her opera cloak over her and lead her to her stall.

"How many heifers have you here?" I asked the stable boy when he had finished bedding her down.

"I have my hands full this time," he exclaimed. "I have seven to take care of. That's about the limit when you are doing the State Fair, all right."

I left the barn and went out onto the roadway to think. I recalled vividly a school visited only the day before where a young man in Jefferson county was striving to handle thirty-six boys and girls in all eight grades and another school where a tired woman was worried with sixty-five. I have seen 10 in one room.

The roadway was crowded with splendid, healthy boys and girls, brown with the kisses of a summer sun. They were laughing and chattering, full to overflowing with the zest of living. Watching them as they passed, I thought:

THIRTY-SIX BOYS AND GIRLS FOR ONE TEACHER.

"Goodness! What is the matter with our old commonwealth when the stockmen all know that it takes one man to handle seven Jersey heifers in a state fair and they do not know that one teacher cannot possibly handle from thirty to seventy young animals and leave them in condition to take prizes in the show ring of life? I felt that the children of Kentucky were not getting a fair, square deal.

Convenient Chicken Roost.

Select two four-inch pieces six feet long. Lay them parallel and nail five crosspieces, three feet long and three inches wide, to these. The legs may be made of 2 by 4 stuff the desired length. By means of long spikes secure them to the parallel pieces, says the Iowa Homestead. Place these in roosting quarters for chickens and they will soon be perching upon it at night.

Poultry Feed.

Corn is a good poultry feed the year around, provided the birds have plenty of green stuff during the warm months.

Explorers in the ruins of the ancient city of Timbad, in Algeria, have uncashed the remains of a public library erected by a Roman Carnegie. The full inscription on the walls is to the following effect: "Out of funds bequeathed by Marcus Julius Quintianus Flavus Regianus, of senatorial memory, by his will, to the colony of Thamagudi, his mother city, the erection of a library has been completed at a cost of 400,000 sestertes, under the direction of the city authority."

THE RECORD ADVERTISING CO., GREENVILLE, KY.

One Good Way Is to Notice Difference in Voices—Mating Season Is Usually in Fall.

Explorers in the ruins of the ancient city of Timbad, in Algeria, have uncashed the remains of a public library erected by a Roman Carnegie. The full inscription on the walls is to the following effect: "Out of funds bequeathed by Marcus Julius Quintianus Flavus Regianus, of senatorial memory, by his will, to the colony of Thamagudi, his mother city, the erection of a library has been completed at a cost of 400,000 sestertes, under the direction of the city authority."

Explorers in the ruins of the ancient city of Timbad, in Algeria, have uncashed the remains of a public library erected by a Roman Carnegie. The full inscription on the walls is to the following effect: "Out of funds bequeathed by Marcus Julius Quintianus Flavus Regianus, of senatorial memory, by his will, to the colony of Thamagudi, his mother city, the erection of a library has been completed at a cost of 400,000 sestertes, under the direction of the city authority."

Explorers in the ruins of the ancient city of Timbad, in Algeria, have uncashed the remains of a public library erected by a Roman Carnegie. The full inscription on the walls is to the following effect: "Out of funds bequeathed by Marcus Julius Quintianus Flavus Regianus, of senatorial memory, by his will, to the colony of Thamagudi, his mother city, the erection of a library has been completed at a cost of 400,000 sestertes, under the direction of the city authority."

Explorers in the ruins of the ancient city of Timbad, in Algeria, have uncashed the remains of a public library erected by a Roman Carnegie. The full inscription on the walls is to the following effect: "Out of funds bequeathed by Marcus Julius Quintianus Flavus Regianus, of senatorial memory, by his will, to the colony of Thamagudi, his mother city, the erection of a library has been completed at a cost of 400,000 sestertes, under the direction of the city authority."

Explorers in the ruins of the ancient city of Timbad, in Algeria, have uncashed the remains of a public library erected by a Roman Carnegie. The full inscription on the walls is to the following effect: "Out of funds bequeathed by Marcus Julius Quintianus Flavus Regianus, of senatorial memory, by his will, to the colony of Thamagudi, his mother city, the erection of a library has been completed at a cost of 400,000 sestertes, under the direction of the city authority."

Explorers in the ruins of the ancient city of Timbad, in Algeria, have uncashed the remains of a public library erected by a Roman Carnegie. The full inscription on the walls is to the following effect: "Out of funds bequeathed by Marcus Julius Quintianus Flavus Regianus, of senatorial memory, by his will, to the colony of Thamagudi, his mother city, the erection of a library has been completed at a cost of 400,000 sestertes, under the direction of the city authority."

Explorers in the ruins of the ancient city of Timbad, in Algeria, have uncashed the remains of a public library erected by a Roman Carnegie. The full inscription on the walls is to the following effect: "Out of funds bequeathed by Marcus Julius Quintianus Flavus Regianus, of senatorial memory, by his will, to the colony of Thamagudi, his mother city, the erection of a library has been completed at a cost of 400,000 sestertes, under the direction of the city authority."

Explorers in the ruins of the ancient city of Timbad, in Algeria, have uncashed the remains of a public library erected by a Roman Carnegie. The full inscription on the walls is to the following effect: "Out of funds bequeathed by Marcus Julius Quintianus Flavus Regianus, of senatorial memory, by his will, to the colony of Thamagudi, his mother city, the erection of a library has been completed at a cost of 400,000 sestertes, under the direction of the city authority."

Explorers in the ruins of the ancient city of Timbad, in Algeria, have uncashed the remains of a public library erected by a Roman Carnegie. The full inscription on the walls is to the following effect: "Out of funds bequeathed by Marcus Julius Quintianus Flavus Regianus, of senatorial memory, by his will, to the colony of Thamagudi, his mother city, the erection of a library has been completed at a cost of 400,000 sestertes, under the direction of the city authority."

Explorers in the ruins of the ancient city of Timbad, in Algeria, have uncashed the remains of a public library erected by a Roman Carnegie. The full inscription on the walls is to the following effect: "Out of funds bequeathed by Marcus Julius Quintianus Flavus Regianus, of senatorial memory, by his will, to the colony of Thamagudi, his mother city, the erection of a library has been completed at a cost of 400,000 sestertes, under the direction of the city authority."

Explorers in the ruins of the ancient city of Timbad, in Algeria, have uncashed the remains of a public library erected by a Roman Carnegie. The full inscription on the walls is to the following effect: "Out of funds bequeathed by Marcus Julius Quintianus Flavus Regianus, of senatorial memory, by his will, to the colony of Thamagudi, his mother city, the erection of a library has been completed at a cost of 400,000 sestertes, under the direction of the city authority."

Explorers in the ruins of the ancient city of Timbad, in Algeria, have uncashed the remains of a public library erected by a Roman Carnegie. The full inscription on the walls is to the following effect: "Out of funds bequeathed by Marcus Julius Quintianus Flavus Regianus, of senatorial memory, by his will, to the colony of Thamagudi, his mother city, the erection of a library has been completed at a cost of 400,000 sestertes, under the direction of the city authority."

Explorers in the ruins of the ancient city of Timbad, in Algeria, have uncashed the remains of a public library erected by a Roman Carnegie. The full inscription on the walls is to the following effect: "Out of funds bequeathed by Marcus Julius Quintianus Flavus Regianus, of senatorial memory, by his will, to the colony of Thamagudi, his mother city, the erection of a library has been completed at a cost of 400,000 sestertes, under the direction of the city authority."

Explorers in the ruins of the ancient city of Timbad, in Algeria, have uncashed the remains of a public library erected by a Roman Carnegie. The full inscription on the walls is to the following effect: "Out of funds bequeathed by Marcus Julius Quintianus Flavus Regianus, of senatorial memory, by his will, to the colony of Thamagudi, his mother city, the erection of a library has been completed at a cost of 400,000 sestertes, under the direction of the city authority."

Explorers in the ruins of the ancient city of Timbad, in Algeria, have uncashed the remains of a public library erected by a Roman Carnegie. The full inscription on the walls is to the following effect: "Out of funds bequeathed by Marcus Julius Quintianus Flavus Regianus, of senatorial memory, by his will, to the colony of Thamagudi, his mother city, the erection of a library has been completed at a cost of 400,000 sestertes, under the direction of the city authority."

Explorers in the ruins of the ancient city of Timbad, in Algeria, have uncashed the remains of a public library erected by a Roman Carnegie. The full inscription on the walls is to the following effect: "Out of funds bequeathed by Marcus Julius Quintianus Flavus Regianus, of senatorial memory, by his will, to the colony of Thamagudi, his mother city, the erection of a library has been completed at a cost of 400,000 sestertes, under the direction of the city authority."

Explorers in the ruins of the ancient city of Timbad, in Algeria, have uncashed the remains of a public library erected by a Roman Carnegie. The full inscription on the walls is to the following effect: "Out of funds bequeathed by Marcus Julius Quintianus Flavus Regianus, of senatorial memory, by his will, to the colony of Thamagudi, his mother city, the erection of a library has been completed at a cost of 400,000 sestertes, under the direction of the city authority."

Explorers in the ruins of the ancient city of Timbad, in Algeria, have uncashed the remains of a public library erected by a Roman Carnegie. The full inscription on the walls is to the following effect: "Out of funds bequeathed by Marcus Julius Quintianus Flavus Regianus, of senatorial memory, by his will, to the colony of Thamagudi, his mother city, the erection of a library has been completed at a cost of 400,000 sestertes, under the direction of the city authority."

Explorers in the ruins of the ancient city of Timbad, in Algeria, have uncashed the remains of a public library erected by a Roman Carnegie. The full inscription on the walls is to the following effect: "Out of funds bequeathed by Marcus Julius Quintianus Flavus Regianus, of senatorial memory, by his will, to the colony of Thamagudi, his mother city, the erection of a library has been completed at a cost of 400,000 sestertes, under the direction of the city authority."

Explorers in the ruins of the ancient city of Timbad, in Algeria, have uncashed the remains of a public library erected by a Roman Carnegie. The full inscription on the walls is to the following effect: "Out of funds bequeathed by Marcus Julius Quintianus Flavus Regianus, of senatorial memory, by his will, to the colony of Thamagudi, his mother city, the erection of a library has been completed at a cost of 400,000 sestertes, under the direction of the city authority."

Explorers in the ruins of the ancient city of Timbad, in Algeria, have uncashed the remains of a public library erected by a Roman Carnegie. The full inscription on the walls is to the following effect: "Out of funds bequeathed by Marcus Julius Quintianus Flavus Regianus, of senatorial memory, by his will, to the colony of Thamagudi, his mother city, the erection of a library has been completed at a cost of 400,000 sestertes, under the direction of the city authority."

Explorers in the ruins of the ancient city of Timbad, in Algeria, have uncashed the remains of a public library erected by a Roman Carnegie. The full inscription on the walls is to the following effect: "Out of funds bequeathed by Marcus Julius Quintianus Flavus Regianus, of senatorial memory, by his will, to the colony of Thamagudi, his mother city, the erection of a library has been completed at a cost of 400,000 sestertes, under the direction of the city authority."

Explorers in the ruins of the ancient city of Timbad, in Algeria, have uncashed the remains of a public library erected by a Roman Carnegie. The full inscription on the walls is to the following effect: "Out of funds bequeathed by Marcus Julius Quintianus Flavus Regianus, of senatorial memory, by his will, to the colony of Thamagudi, his mother city, the erection of a library has been completed at

THE RECORD.

An Independent Newspaper.

PUBLISHED THURSDAY BY

RECORD PRESS,

ORIEN L. ROARK, President.

SECRETARY.

ORIEN L. ROARK, EDITOR.

Long-Distance Telephone No. 72.

Office at corner of Main and State, ground floor.

50 CENTS PER YEAR IN ADVANCE.

TERMS.

The subscription price of the paper is payable in advance, and when the time has expired, no more will be paid, the paper will be returned.

Cards of the bank holding money, or if not more than two lines will be published free. A change of less per line will be made for service.

No variation of this rule to anyone.

Postage will be mailed.

Advertisers will be listed. A rate card will be furnished on request.

Address all communications and make all remittances payable to RECORD PRESS,

Greenville, Ky.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1912.

Entered at the Greenville, Ky., post office as second-class matter.

WHAT has become of the seven little governors that precipitated the third term movement?

UNCLE SAM is at a disadvantage in not being able to pay his senators as generously as some great corporations pay theirs.

PHILADELPHIA is trying to get its policemen from the country towns. London adopted the plan long ago and it has worked well.

Some ultimate consumers, perceiving that beef on the hoof is $1 a hundred, are planning to let it remain on the hoof and see if that will help any.

GOVERNMENT postal banks have worked no injury to the regular banking organizations, and thus another bugaboo is taken from the path of timid reform. Now for the parcels post!

IN English slaughter houses animals are killed by a new and humane method. The instrument employed is a spring operated pistol that projects a sharp blade into the animal's head. No bullet enters the animal, and as no powder is used, the pistol may be placed direct upon the vital point of the skull so that the aim will be unerring, death will be absolutely instantaneous, and the animal will feel no pain.

COL. THEODORE ROOSEVELT was shot as he entered an automobile at Milwaukee about 8 o'clock Monday night, the assailant being John Schrank, of New York city, who acknowledges that for a month he has been following the ex-President for the purpose of killing him. The bullet struck bundle of papers in the right breast, and this arrested and deflected the ball, which penetrated the chest and is lodged in the tissues. The lung cavity was not penetrated, and unless complications arise the Colonel will soon be out. There is sincere and general rejoicing that the injuries inflicted are slight, and it affords much satisfaction that the act was that of an unbalanced mind, rather than the result of conspiracy. Schrank was laboring under the delusion that Roosevelt had caused the death of McKinley, and that it was his duty to commit the deed.

EVIDENCE that the cost of living is still rising and rising at a more alarming pace than ever before is given in the latest compilation of the Bradstreet monthly index of prices, which includes not only food but metals, textiles, coal, building material and a number of other things which go to make up the ordinary necessities of life. The figures for September show that the cost of living climbed more in that period than in any previous month. The September index number 9451 is not only the highest on record, but represents a jump of 2.5 per cent over the August figure. As compared with the previous high record, touched on May 1 last the advance is 1.9 per cent.

What Are You Going To Do This Year

by way of making your business successful and your domestic life full of pleasure, if you are not supplied with telephone service of the Cumberland Telephone & Telegraph Company? Everyone should have a telephone. You are connected with all outside important points in local connections with all residences and business houses. For any information call manager, Lumberside Telephone & Telegraph Co., Incorporated.

A Correspondence Between Ex-Congressman J. D. Dugan And Judge Price.

Riverview, Oct. 11, 1912.

My Dear Judge: I noticed some days ago a correspondence between you and Hon. U. T. Harris. I desire to say to you that I have had a similar experience to that of Mr. Harris, only a more active and perhaps a more devoted one in regard to the third or "Bull Moose" party. I want to say that I have always admired Col. Roosevelt, every since he came into politics and I did all that I could to have him nominated on the Republican ticket at the Chicago convention and after the defeat I remained true to him in his revolt against the Republican party. I went as a delegate to the convention that nominated him on a third party ticket, I came back with the determination to do all that I could for him and his race; but one day I met up with an old Republican associate who said to me, "Dugan, who are you for in this race for president?" I told him that I was undoubtedly for Col. Roosevelt. He said, "then you are no longer a Republican." I told him that I was as good a Republican as anybody. He said, "no good Republican would oppose the Democratic party and a vote for Roosevelt would be a vote against the Republican party and would be an assistant to the Democratic party." I told him that Roosevelt was a good Republican. He then said, "Roosevelt says that he is not a Republican and has abandoned the principles of the Republican party and has adopted principles of a new party." I then began to study and come to my senses. I said to myself, "Who am I? and am I a bolter and a renegade." So I came to a standstill. I then read carefully Roosevelt's platform and confession of faith that he was advocating. I could see but little analogy with the Republican principles, and after he began making speeches in his tour over the states I said I am done with revolt and the adventure of Rooseveltism. I am a Republican dyed in the wool and have now determined to stand by its principles and politics, live or die, sink or swim, I shall not forsake the old ship but shall cast my vote for Wm. H. Taft for president, and I want to say to you that I am glad to know that others who have strayed off are coming to their senses and are coming home. And to tell the truth I am ashamed of myself and feel like I had been off on a trip and got home with my people. I regret my conduct and action in opposition to the Republican party which I have long advocated. I am now conscious that every vote cast for Roosevelt is a vote against the Republican party and in favor of the Democratic party which we do not want; with this explanation I shall close, and remain,

Yours,
J. D. DUGAN.

Poplar Level, Oct. 15th, 1912.

The Hon. J. D. Dugan.

Dear Sir: Yours of the 11th inst., received and would say in response that I am surprised at a man of your attainment and ability to gather with your congressional and political experience that you would suffer your self to be induced to engage in a revolt against your political party and to work for its overthrow and to follow the political rabble led by a self-conceited demagogue. I am glad to hear that you have cut loose from such a clamoring element and no longer shall be drifted by the wild waves of Rooseveltism, but shall henceforth be found battling for the promotion and preservation of the Republican party, whose history is written in shining letters upon the progress and prosperity of our great country, within whose extended borders the sum of industry and the song of commerce is today heard from ocean to ocean and from lake to gulf. Let me say to you, that President Taft is the man for the times, the strong man for the occasion, one upon whom the people of the nation can depend and trust for security and safety. He is the right man in the right place. He has been true and tried to the principles of the Republican party and has steadily kept his onward and upward course towards the goal of national success, and with lion nerve and courage and with the intelligence and wisdom of a matchless statesman he has heroically stood the taunts and attacks of Democratic demagogues and disgruntled insurgents, who have attempted to lead him into error and disaster by violating the principles and policies of his party, but he has stood out like a stone wall and an impenetrable bulwark for the perpetuation and growth of his great country, and never before has any of Taft's predecessors, since the days of Lincoln, been so loved and harassed by as great clamor of political demagogues and fanaticism. I want to say further that the loyal, honest and business people of this nation will not follow after a man travelling over the states in this union bellowing like a mad bull moose, spitting fire and venom on a party and people who have honored him with the office of President and given him the renown that he has, and I want to say further that I do not believe that people have any desire to be governed and ruled by the Democratic party, that has always been considered bad medicine. The people do not want to take another dose of it like they did in 1892. The people and the business interests of the country cannot afford to turn down the present prosperous administration for one likely to be disastrous. "A burnt child fears fire." And I do not believe that they can again be led into a death trap of Democracy. I have no criticism to make of Gov. Woodrow Wilson who heads the Democratic ticket. I believe that he is an honest gentleman, one of ability, talent and sense, but unfortunately he is sailing on the wrong current, down stream at that, and under the wrong colors for the people of his country. Now in conclusion I want to say to you, that the children of Lincoln and the veterans of his grand old party will all flock to its fort and defend it and be able to hold it against the combined attacks of all other parties on November the 5th, and that the flag of the party of Lincoln shall again wave in triumph over the land of the brave. Now Mr. Dugan, let me congratulate you on your noble resolve, and believe me as ever,

Yours,
Q. B. PRICE.

Watch Found Near Unity Church.

A watch was found near Unity church Saturday, Oct. 12; owner can recover by describing and paying for this notice. J. H. Lovell, Tel. 285, Depoy, Ky.

Merchants with full stocks of goods are going to be in mighty good shape to serve the public, as prices have already advanced strongly, in the face of a Presidential campaign, and predictions are for much heavier boosts after the election.

A novel entertainment is that provided for tonight at the Cumberland Presbyterian church when "A Musical Dream" will be rendered by local talent. Admission, adults 35c; children 15c.

Enjoyable, pleasing, witness the musical play at the C. P. church this evening.

Farmers of Muhlenberg will meet here Saturday morning to discuss the drainage of land, cleaning and straightening of water courses, and relative matters of importance. There are losses of many thousands of dollars every year from water damage that could at comparatively small cost be removed, and the master should have had attention long ago.

Mr. Robert D. Johnson, a brakeman in the employ of the L. & N. R. R. Co., in the yards in Evansville, was killed there last Friday by being run over by a car. Johnson formerly lived in this county, but left here about ten years ago. His body was brought here Sunday morning, accompanied by quite a number of Odd Fellows, of which order he was a member, and also by a number of his fellow employees. The local lodge took charge of the body on arrival here, and about a hundred members escorted the funeral party to Friendship, where Rev. Woodson delivered a sermon, and interment was made under the rites of the lodge. He ceased to live by his wife and five children. He was an industrious and popular and widely known, and his family has the deepest sympathy of everyone. There was an immense crowd in attendance, and the floral offerings were numerous and beautiful.

Take your beef hides to J. E. Coombs & Co. and get the cash.

Of Course There's a Reason

C. Kirkpatrick

D. M. Roll

Kirkpatrick & Roll

Over Old Bank Building, Court House Square

Telephone No. 89

We are agents of a line of the strongest American companies, writing all forms of insurance. We carry risks against

Hail on Tobacco

and specially solicit this Business.

Real Estate

We buy and sell real estate and have listed with us farming, timber and coal lands, town lots, etc. Also property for rent. Shall be glad to have this business in all branches.

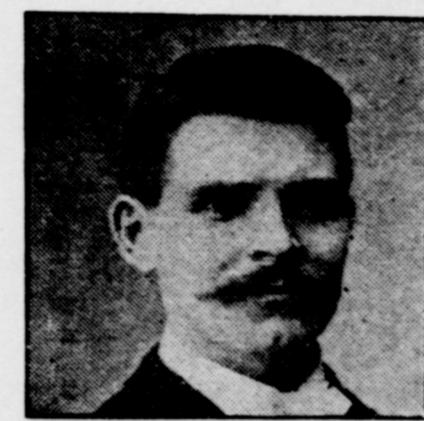

KITCHEN CABINETS AT ROARK'S.

Save $75!

BY PURCHASING
ONE OF OUR

FULL BOOKKEEPING COURSE SCHOLARSHIPS

for only $25. The regular price is $100. Those who bring or mail this advertisement to us within five days after seeing it and telling us where they saw it will be able to have one reserved at the low rate of $25. Books and stationery are included. No time limit. If not ready now, buy one for future use.

G.W. Schwartz

PRINCIPAL

Bryant Stratton

BUSINESS COLLEGE.

Second and Walnut Streets, LOUISVILLE, KY.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK

GREENVILLE, KENTUCKY

DIRECTORS—W. A. Wickliffe, W. G. Duncan, C. E. Martin, R. T. Martin, E. J. Puryear, C. M. Martin, Jno T. Reynolds, Jr.

The standing and responsibility of the men who constitute our Board of Directors are a guarantee of careful, judicious management.

NO SMOKE, NO ODOR

The quality of Lamp Oil you use counts immensely for your comfort and health. There's a perfect oil made for people who give thought. It is

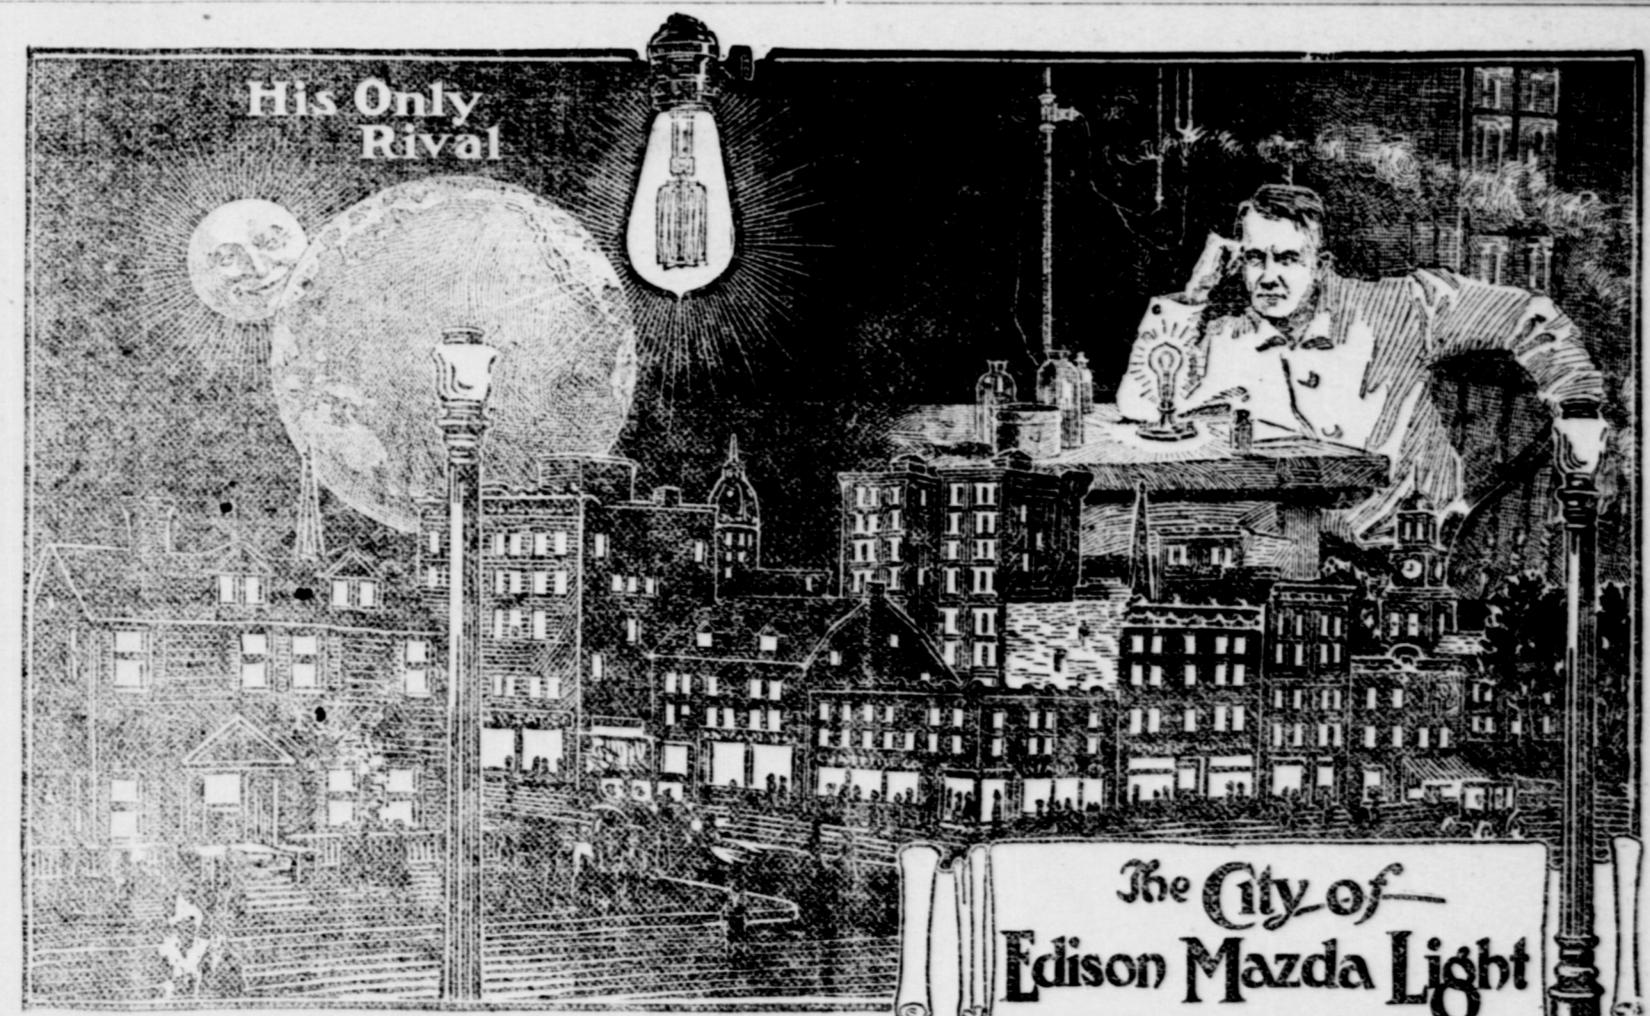

SOLITE OIL

Made from Pennsylvania Crude Oil—the best ever—full, white flame, no smoke, no odor. Costs no more than inferior tank-wagon oils—saves money as well as time and comfort. Your dealer has it in original barrels direct from us.

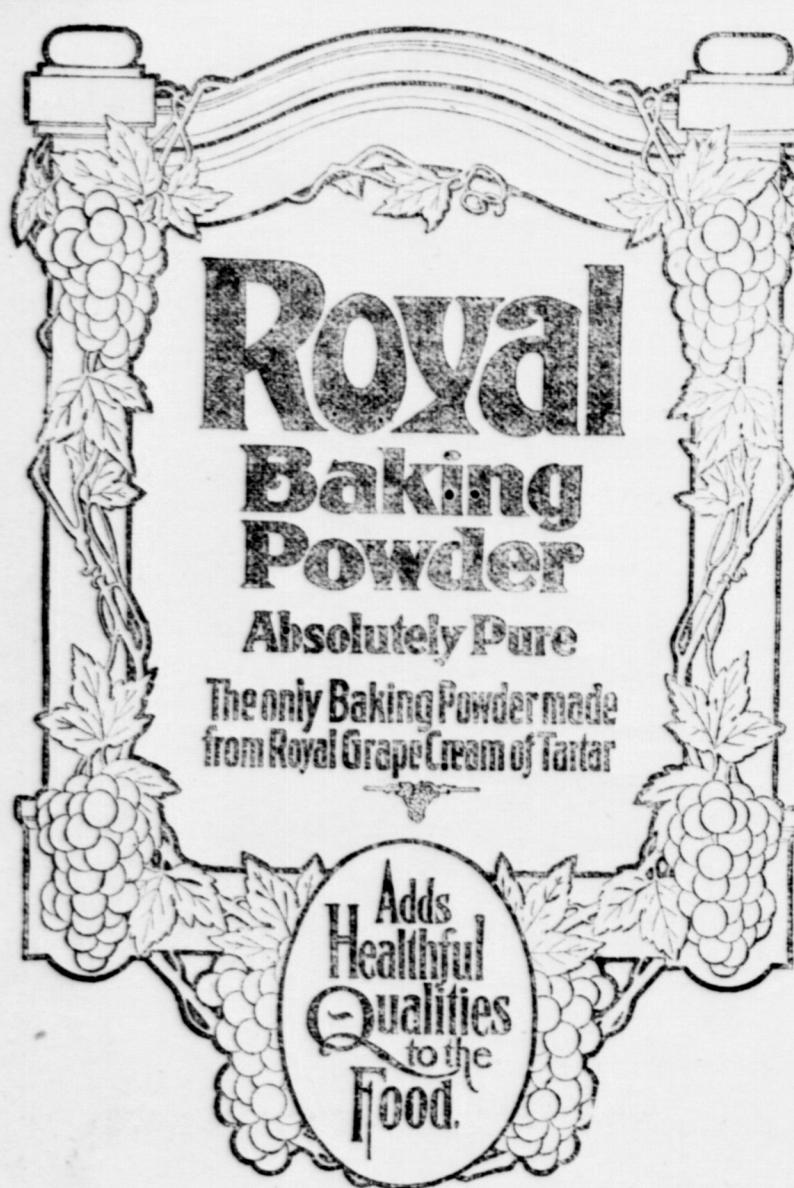

Chas. C. Stoll Oil Co., Louisville, Ky.

Refinery at Warren, Pa.
High-grade Motor Gasoline, "No Carb" Auto Oil.

Victors and Records at Roark's

FOR SALE BY
GREENVILLE LIGHT and WATER CO.

I. C. R. R. LOCAL TIME CARD.

NORTH BOUND.
80.
122 Louisville Express.....	11:45 am
121 Fulton accommodation.....	12:40 pm
101 Louisville Limited.....	1:40 pm
100 Co. (Louisville passenger only).....	2:45 pm
136 Central City accommodation.....	2:45 pm
so far now.....
123 Paducah and Cairo express.....	3:45 pm
121 Fulton accommodation.....	4:40 pm
101 New Orleans special.....
100 Co. (Louisville passenger only).....
June 5, 1911.

W. G. CHAPMAN, Act.

WHEN PRAISE IS GIVEN.

He was rather a crooked cuss who always "beat" the play it fair, but he got there just the same; He owed an hundred persons his bills he'd never pay. But it didn't seem to bother him—he went the same old way. Let the other fellow worry, he could always have his fun. So they roped him into politics—he made a record run. That landed him in office and he ran it with a dash; He lived beyond his income—and he stole five thousand cash; He missed the penitentiary by the splitting of a hair. And everybody knew it, but he didn't seem to care. Then one day he married and the papers spread it thick. He was a hunting business man who'd turned a lucky trick. And so it was he went his way until the day he died, They laid him low beneath the sod—again the papers lied; For every man can safely bet that twice his praise will rise— The first is when he takes a wife, the other's when he dies.

—Harry M. Dean.

Local Mention.

County school fair Nov. 15.

Good morning! Ordered your car yet?

See Coombs & Co. before you sell your beef hides. o 27

This is the time when ice and coal bills lap.

Our glorious Indian summer has had a fine run.

"Bob White" is without doubt the best flour on earth.

There will be some startling revelations in the exhibits at the school fair.

Talent and genius will be shown in the offerings in the county school fair exhibits.

When you get "Qualify" meal you get the best that is to be had.

Mr. John M. Wells continues to improve, and it is hoped will soon be out again.

Rev. R. H. Tandy is in Trenton, where he is assisting in a protracted revival.

A recent bulletin from the State Board of Health is devoted to the Hookworm, and shows 68 counties of Kentucky have the infection. No cases have been reported from Muhlenberg, but all doctors are watching carefully for any indications, as many more than half the counties have already discovered cases more or less numerously.

Mrs. R. H. Tandy is visiting relatives in Bowling Green.

Telephone No 5 and your laundry will be called for and delivered.

Mr. J. P. Morgan was in Chicago a few days last week on business affairs.

Mr. Joe Long was in Louisville last week to the meeting of the master bakers of the State.

Baby buggies at Roark.

The dangerous fly has about disappeared, but the pesky mosquito is still with us.

See the Outing baby sulky at Roark's; different and better than others.

The march of the school children at the county fair will dim any procession heretofore seen here.

To The Public.

We desire to announce to the public that our new mill is now in full operation, and we will at all times have on hand the very finest quality of flour, meal and feed. We are very anxious to do custom grinding for our friends, and can give them the very best flour and wheat that is to be had anywhere, in exchange for their corn and wheat.

HOME MILLING CO. (Inc.)

Program for tonight: "Musical Dream" at the Cumberland Presbyterian church.

Be sure to see and hear the "Musical Dream" at the Cumberland church this evening. Proceeds go to the church building and maintenance fund.

No matter what you want in sewing machine supplies you can get it from Roark.

Mr. W. W. Bridges and wife, of Drakesboro were here Sunday, guests of the family of Mr. J. L. Rogers.

Mrs. David Cowell, of Earlinton, will arrive this week, on a visit to Mrs. John X. Taylor.

Dr. Liggett Bailey, of White Plains, who has been here assisting Dr. Moore while his partner, Dr. Beverley Martin, has been away on vacation, has returned to his home. Dr. Bailey is a bright young man, well qualified for the practice of his profession, and has a promising outlook.

Dr. J. S. Lyons, pastor of the First Presbyterian church in Louisville, last Sunday completed a service of twenty years with his congregation. Dr. Lyons is well known here, where he makes occasional visits, and is held in highest regard.

The co-operative grocery store, launched by the colored folks, opened last week in the Martin building, corner Wing Alley and Main cross street. John Saulsbury is the store-keeper. A general line of groceries will be handled.

Papers were eagerly sought here Tuesday, everyone being anxious to learn the details of the assault on ex-President Roosevelt.

New patterns in the Kirsch curtain rods received by Roark this week. Almost the full line in stock now.

Mr. W. H. Gray is in Louisville attending the sessions of the Masonic Grand Lodge.

The fiscal court has been in regular semi-annual session this week, distributing the county funds in payment of claims that have been presented in large numbers, of course.

Fred Irvin, original auto enthusiast, is wearing an even more expansive smile nowadays, as he has sold one 1913 car, and has many other live prospects, some of which will be made happy soon in the possession of an automobile.

Get mounts for calendars, mottoes, etc. at this office.

The election returns will be received at the Alice theater on the night of the election, and seven reels of films will be run during the intermissions between the bulletins. This will be a comfortable way in which to hear the returns, and the house will be packed.

Diphtheria is still afflicting children over the county, but the cases are all receiving prompt attention, and there have been no fatalities so far, with the disease less prevalent, and the hope is that the epidemic is about over.

The revival services at the Baptist church were brought to a close Sunday night, when the rites of baptism were administered to sixteen candidates. There were twenty-nine additions to the church, and all other churches in town also received additions from among those who professed. Dr. Compton, of Owensesboro, is a preacher of great power, and a forceful speaker in revival efforts.

Best one ever made—the Kirsch curtain rods; Roark has a large line.

Hundreds of farmers want better drainage of land; be here Saturday and help them get it.

Because of the musical at the Cumberland Presbyterian church Mr. S. A. Harris will meet the boys of Greenville at the Y. M. C. A. on Thursday afternoon at 3:45, just after school. Every boy in Greenville should be present to meet Mr. Harris, who is Boys' Secretary for the State of Kentucky. Come and bring the other fellow with you.

No matter how goes the election, the increased cost of living will continue, as manufacturers in all lines, almost, are increasing prices.

Miss Carmon Belcher left last week for Ardmore, Okla., where she will spend the winter with her aunt, Mrs. Ward.

Well, we have our first auto; now line up, gentlemen—who'll be next? We should have at least a dozen in town before snow flies, and we will have several almost to a certainty.

Mr. F. A. Irvin, local agent for the Ford Motor Co., delivered a runabout Ford, 1913 model, to Mr. J. A. Gilman the first of the week.

He drove the car through from Louisville without mishap, but says we have perfect highways compared with some spots he struck en route.

Merchants here and over the county should wake up to the importance of the school fair, and if anyone has failed to offer a prize for the corn show and school fair, this should be given attention at once, as the pupils should be generally recognized and rewarded in their commendable efforts.

The international convention of the Disciples of Christ, of the Christian church, is in session in Louisville this week, some fourteen branches of work being represented, and about 40,000 delegates and visitors are in attendance, practically every part of the world being represented. This is one of the greatest conventions Louisville has ever entertained, and the vast army is proving too small for the meetings, the First Christian church and other buildings being used.

With the greatest grain crop the country has ever known, and the horse put out of business by the automobile, the ultimate consumer is demanding a larger package of breakfast food for his dime.

Free Tuition for Road Engineers.

In order to give as much assistance as possible to prospective County Road Engineers, the College of Civil and Highway Engineering, at the University of Kentucky, in conjunction with the State Highway Department, will give a short course to any citizens of the State desiring to avail themselves of the opportunity. The course opened Monday, October 14, and will include Road Location, Construction and Maintenance, Field practice in Leveling and Surveying, Making Maps, Profiles and Estimates.

The University will have underway the reconstruction of about one mile of Macadam road during the period for which the short course has been scheduled, which will give an excellent opportunity for men attending the short course to see some actual construction. The construction of this road will be under the supervision of State Road Commissioner R. C. Terrell.

Every effort will be made to make the course valuable to men intending to take the examination for County Road Engineer. Applicants will be admitted to this course with out tuition or fees of any nature whatsoever or reference to educational qualifications. The course will continue for ten weeks.

Diphtheria is still afflicting children over the county, but the cases are all receiving prompt attention, and there have been no fatalities so far, with the disease less prevalent, and the hope is that the epidemic is about over.

Go to Sam R. Martin's tonsorial parlor and bath house for an easy, close shave or an up to date haircut; near the Max Weir corner; leading barber shop in town, assisted by two first class workmen.

Yes we have an automobile—and we will have more soon, too.

Less than three weeks until the election; unless you have made up your mind, better settle on some to cast your vote.

Tobacco raisers have had plenty of time, and have gotten in all the weed in good shape.

If you can stand the pressure for three weeks longer the political troubles will by then all be settled.

There may be something in the theory that Col. Rossiter impresses his followers. One bull mooser was heard to say yesterday in answer to a long array of charges brought by a gop (and that's a good word): "Admitting all that you say is true, I'm going to vote for the colonel, because he is what he is, not because he was what he was."

Mr. C. S. Curd, W. M., is in Louisville this week, representing Pond River Lodge No. 244 at the annual meeting of the Masonic Grand Lodge of Kentucky.

Miss Catherine Vize has returned from a stay of ten days with friends in Louisville and a visit to her parents in Morganfield.

Mr. Robert Hardison was in Louisville the latter part of last week on business affairs.

After the election is over the public will have nothing to worry about except Thanksgiving dinner and Christmas shopping.

Better get ready for the cold weather—it is coming, sure.

Mr. Arthur Howard was up from Martwick Sunday, spending the day at home.

Teachers and pupils of the county schools are working on the school fair matter, and our people are to be pleasantly surprised when they view the results Nov. 15.

There will be the usual number of changes of residence after the election, many moves being held up to avoid the loss of a vote.

Closing out sales, quitting business sales, special sales, money raising sales, regular sales; all these are on now or here, and are drawing people to town and causing considerable business.

Telegraphic press reports indicate an extraordinary number of robbery of railway trains, the approach of cold weather always bringing about extra activity on the part of criminals of this type.

It is estimated that there will be 2,000 school children of the county here to attend the school fair on Nov. 15. This promises to be one of the most interesting events that has occurred here in many a year.

A Square Deal.

A SQUARE DEAL.

Works both ways: it benefits the buyer as well as the seller. We are firm believers in the Square Deal—as much for our own benefit as for yours—for we know if you get the Square Deal habit you will buy from a Square Deal house. We give a square deal always—and we are as glad to give it as you are to get it.

ROARK

Furniture

Funeral Goods

Decorations

Telephone—72, 108

Something to Think About.

Many words won't fill a bushel, but a Fire, Lightning, or Tornado policy with us will fill a want in human happiness that will otherwise remain unsatisfied.

W. D. Blackwell & Bro., General Insurance, Greenville, Ky. Rogers Bldg. Telephone, 163.

Meet with the farmers at the court house Saturday morning and lend your support to an effort that is to be made to clean and straighten creeks and branches, so that our annual loss may be stopped.

Col. John K. Hendrick, of Paducah, one of the ablest speakers in Kentucky, will be here next Saturday night and will make an address at 7:30 at the court house in the interest of Wilson and Marshall. Everyone is invited, and especially the ladies.

Miss Lena Arnold has a full supply of bulbs as follows: Hyacinths for pot culture, 10c. each; colors: light and dark blue, yellow, white, pink, bright scarlet. Hyacinths for bedding, 75c. per dozen, in same colors. Chinese lillies 15c. each; white Narcissus, 4c. per bulb or 35c. per dozen.

Frisco Campbell and Bill Stuart, colored drivers in the W. G. Duncan Coal Co., mines at Graham, were in collision early yesterday morning and Campbell was so badly injured that he died in a short while; Stuart escaped without injury.

Muhlenberg farmers are interested in water damage, and will inaugurate a campaign here Saturday for correcting this serious loss. Thousands of acres of the best land in the county cannot be put in cultivation on account of overflows, and every dollar expended in this work will pay big returns.

Some one in your home prefers vocal music. You'd rather have instrumental.

You can both be suited with a Victor Double-faced Record.

Two records in one almost at the price of one—10-inch, 75 cents; 12-inch, $1.25.

PEE-GEE

FLATKOATT

The Walls

and Ceilings

of your home or any other building in which you are interested, should be harmonious and pleasing to the eye. These effects are easily secured with

PEE-GEE

FLATKOATT

The Sanitary, Durable, Flat Oil Finish

Ask our dealer in your town, for our beautiful book: "Modern Method of Finishing Walls," giving color schemes and practical suggestions for interior decoration in private houses and public buildings. The plain directions on each can make Pee-Gee

ROARK—Furniture, Wallpaper, Shades, Moldings.

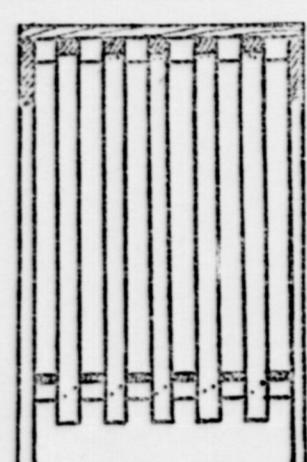

Undertaker's Goods: Coffins, Caskets, Robes, Wrappers, Slippers, Grave Vaults. Disinfection—ROARK

CHUTE TO CLEAN POTATOES

Slats Arranged, as Shown in Illustration, Allows All Dirt to Fall Through to Ground.

The ordinary box form used for conveying potatoes to the bins in cellar usually allows all the dirt upon same to go down with the tubers in the bin. This can be avoided if the bottom of the chute is made of slats, as shown in illustration, which permits all the dirt to fall through the openings upon the ground, as well as any pebbles that are picked up with the potatoes. The slats may be placed at a distance of one inch or one and one-half inches apart and this will also act as a sifter of the potatoes, as well; the small potatoes falling through the openings between the slats with the dirt, etc., then with a second chute tubers can be conveyed to a separate bin, with the dirt falling to the ground, says the Iowa Homestead. This would save much labor, as the crop can be picked up as they come from the digger without the trouble of sorting, as when they are put in the cellar the sorting would be accomplished far easier and quicker by the above method.

A Self-Cleaning Potato Chute.

HIGH VALUE OF GOOD ROADS

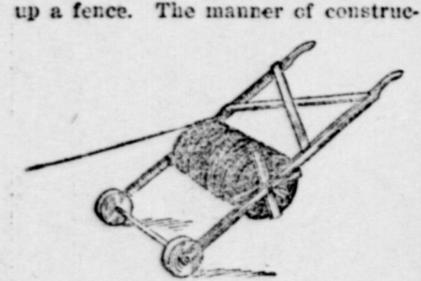

Big Point in Favor of Construction is Economy of Time and Force in Reaching Market.

No one questions the statement that good roads have a high money value to the farmers of the nation, and it may be said that this alone is sufficient to justify the cost of their construction as rapidly as practicable under an efficient, economical and equitable system of highway improvement. The big point in favor of this expenditure is the economy of time and force in transportation between farm and market, enabling the growers to take advantage of fluctuations in buying and selling, as well as enhancing the value of real estate. It is estimated that the average annual loss from poor roads is 75 cents an acre, while the estimated average increase resulting from improving all the public roads is $9. The losses in five years would aggregate $2,432 for every section of land, or more than enough to improve two miles of public highway. The necessity of good roads is obvious, as it would enhance the value of each section of land about $5,700, or more than double the estimated cost of two miles of improved highway, which constitutes the quota for 640 acres of land.

TRUCK TO HAUL FENCE-WIRE

Spool Can Easily Be Handled by One Man by Use of Device Shown in Illustration.

In the accompanying illustration is shown a handy rig for carrying a spool of barbed wire when putting up a fence. The manner of construction is obvious, says the Popular Mechanics. The spool of wire can be easily handled by one man with this device.

Quantity of Lime Needed. The quantity of lime needed under different conditions varies from a few hundred pounds to several tons; but an average of about one ton of good lime to the acre will usually be sufficient. If grades of lime are used which contain 50 per cent or less of calcium oxide larger quantities will be required.

Smaller applications—perhaps 300 to 600 pounds—once in two to four years—will be preferable to very heavy applications at longer intervals; and if the basic slag be freely used as a source of phosphoric acid, it is probable that a second application of lime will, in most cases, be necessary.

"I was Crippled, could hardly walk
and had to Crawl

down stairs at times on my hands and knees. My doctor told me I had an acute attack of inflammatory rheumatism. I was in the hospital for weeks, but was scarcely able to walk when I left it. I read about

Dr. Miles' Nervine

bought a bottle and began to get better from the start, and for the past six months I have had scarcely any pain and am able to walk as well as ever." J.H. SANDERS,
P. O. box 5, Rockaway, N. J.

Few medicines are of any benefit for rheumatism, but Mr. Sanders tells plainly what Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine did for him. One ounce of salicylate of soda added to one bottle of Nervine makes an excellent remedy for rheumatism,

which is now known to be a nervous disease and therefore subject to the influence of a medicine that acts through the nerves, as does

Dr. Miles' Nervine

Sufferers from rheumatism seldom fail to find relief in the use of Dr. Miles' Nervine, with salicylate of soda.

Sold under a guarantee that ensures the return of the price of the first bottle
if it fails to benefit. At all Druggs.
MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind.

Indigestion

Bromide Remedy is but a symptom of and not itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and Indigestion as but diverse, yet closely related symptoms of a certain specific

Nerve disease—nothing else.

It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop to his discovery of a Remedy for Indigestion—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Our claim to the duodenal nerves, after benefit that success that original and highly intelligent. With such lasting accomplishments we venture to be bold and say—Tincture or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend.

Dr. Shoop's Restorative

White Sewing Machines, in rotary and vibrator; needles, shuttles, etc. in stock for all machines. ROARK'S STORE.

Take your beef hides to J. E.
Coombs & Co. and get the cash.

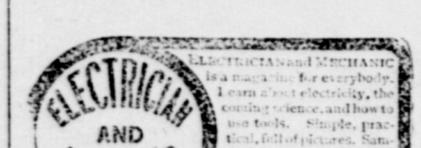

Very Serious

It is a very serious matter to ask for one medicine and have the wrong one given you. For this reason we urge you in buying to be careful to get the genuine.

THE DEDD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT Liver Medicine

The reputation of this old, reliable medicine, for constipation, indigestion and liver trouble, is firmly established. It does not irritate other medicines. It is better than others, as it would not be the favorite liver powder with a longer time than all others combined.

GOLD IN TOWN P. 2

Folcy's Kidney Cure
makes kidneys and bladder right.

Why Not Read The Courier Journal?

HENRY WATTERSON
Editor.

WE CAN FURNISH YOU THE RECORD AND THE WEEKLY COURIER-JOURNAL BOTH ONE YEAR FOR $1.15

We can also give liberal combination rate with Daily or Sunday Courier Journal.
Write Courier Journal Company,
Louisville, Ky., for free
sample copy of edition you desire, but be sure to send your subscription order to this paper—not to the Courier Journal.

Deal at home as much as possible. Build up your home town. This will make you a better home market and enhance the value of your property.

Cures "Colds" in any part of body,
including ANY Cough in our house.
Dr. Fenner's Cough Honey

Miss Lena Arnold asks the patron age of the public, and guarantees that satisfactory work will be done in her clothes cleaning, pressing and repairing shop.

KILL THE COUGH AND CURE THE LUNGS

WITH Dr. King's
New Discovery

FOR COUGHS
PRICE
50¢
AND ALL THROAT AND LUNG TROUBLES.
GUARANTEED SATISFACTORIES OR MONEY REFUNDED.

McCracken has the largest stock of dials for timepieces ever carried in the county, and can fit anything from the court house clock to a toy watch.

WALLPAPER Special Prices, at Roark's.

Our Name

has been before the public for 30 years, most of the time right on the spot where we are now located.

Our Aim

constantly has been to sell the best goods in our lines, at the most reasonable prices. Our services are of the highest grade, our wares the best, and our equipment compares with the best of the larger cities. We endeavor constantly to increase our usefulness.

Our Claim

On your patronage is based on a service the duration of an ordinary life time, and a square deal assured every one. The accumulated experience and knowledge of this third of a century are at your command.

The J. L. ROARK Estate

ORIEN L. ROARK, Manager

FURNITURE
UNERAL

DEALERS
DIRECTORS

Established 1829 Long Distance Telephones: Store 72; Home 103

» A BLUE ROSE «

The Greatest
Rose Novelty
of the Century
Send for
Description and Price List
JOHN E. RACKERBRANDT
Greenhouses
Princeton, Ky.

The Rose (Violet Blue)
Billed by the Rose Growers
as the Foremost of the Corn-flower Blue Rose. Very vigorous and hardy. Free Blooming

CUMBERLAND TELEPHONE & TELEGRAPH CO.

Long distance lines and telephones of this Company enable you to talk almost anywhere in Southern Indiana, Southern Illinois, Kentucky, Tennessee, Mississippi and Louisiana. We can put you in quick and satisfactory communication with the people of our great section of the country.
We solicit your patronage. Rates reasonable. Equipments and facilities unsurpassed.

AMES E. CALDWELL, Pres. LELAND HUME, Secy. T. D. WEBB, Treasurer

JUST RECEIVED

Many Patterns of 1912 Wallpapers

COME and SEE THEM
The J. L. ROARK ESTATE